

WHEREAS; diversity makes communities and the state stronger, enriching our state’s history and ensuring our future success; and

WHEREAS; research from the Williams Institute and the Human Rights Campaign suggests that individuals identifying as bisexual make up the largest group within the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer (LGBTQ) community; and

WHEREAS; first observed in 1999 at the International Lesbian and Gay Association Conference, Bisexual Pride and Visibility Day was established by Gigi Raven Wilbur, Wendy Curry, and Michael Page to support and uplift the bisexual community; and

WHEREAS; it is widely accepted that on September 18, 2012, Berkeley, California, became the first city in the United States to officially proclaim a day to recognize and honor bisexuality, bisexual-identifying people, and the rich culture and history of the identity; and

WHEREAS; bisexual individuals often face challenges similar to those faced by other members of the LGBTQ community, including harmful stereotyping and a lack of support, reassurance, and acceptance from friends, family, and communities; and

WHEREAS; it is essential to recognize the diversity of experiences and identities within the bisexual community that make each person’s lived experience unique, including intersecting identities such as gender, race, class, and ability; and

WHEREAS; today, the state of Wisconsin joins the LGBTQ community and allies across the state in celebrating diverse bisexual identities and in reaffirming the state’s commitment to ensuring that every Wisconsinite feels welcome and can stand boldly in their truth without fear of persecution, judgment, or discrimination;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Tony Evers, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby proclaim September 23 2023 as

BISEXUAL PRIDE AND VISIBILITY DAY

throughout the State of Wisconsin and I commend this observance to all our state’s residents.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the Capitol in the City of Madison this 13th day of September 2023.

TONY EVERS, Governor
